WINE OUR ETHOS

The journey through the rich and diverse regions of Italy is the core of our wine list, taking you from Valle d'Aosta to Calabria then moving on to the Islands. We select our wines from small, artisan producers who practice sustainable agriculture with low or zero intervention, and respect for the land with the aim to obtain the best possible expression of each region's unique grape variety and terroir; while preserving the traditions and heritage of Italian wine making. We are committed to sharing our passion for these exceptional wines with you, and we hope that every sip will transport you on a journey of discovery and delight.

Cheers!

Skin contact wine is a type of white wine where the grape skins are left in contact with the juice during fermentation. This process can last from a few hours to several months, resulting in a range of colors from golden-straw yellow to deep amber or orange.

These wines can offer a broad spectrum of flavours and aromas, including apricot, peach, honey, ginger, orange peel, chamomile, jasmine, and baking spices.

Skin contact wines are known for their versatility and complexity. They can range from delicate and fruity to more oxidized, or robust with notable body and tannins.

LAZIO

Lazio, home to Rome, boasts a rich winemaking heritage with volcanic soils that impart bright acidity and minerality. The region is best known for its fresh, crisp white wines, particularly those made from native grapes like Bellone. In recent years, Lazio's red wines, including Sangiovese, Cesanese, and Montepulciano, have also gained acclaim for their depth and distinctive character.

LE MARCHE

Marche, on Italy's eastern coast, is known for its Verdicchio and Montepulciano-based wines.

With a diverse terroir influenced by the Apennines, the Adriatic, and local rivers, the region produces wines with a balance of freshness and complexity. Verdicchio shines in its DOCG appellations of Castelli di Jesi and Matelica, while Montepulciano and Sangiovese dominate the reds, including the notable Conero DOCG.

● TRENTINO - ALTO ADIGE

Possibly the most beautiful wine region in the world, Alto Adige (aka Südtirol), is where North meets South; in terms of climate, culture, and wine. Even though it is one of Italy's smallest winegrowing regions, thanks to its geographical position, it is also one of the most multifaceted. What emerges here are not trendy wines, but rather authentic wines with their own original character. The higher altitudes result in moderate vine growth, a longer maturation period and lower yields. This in turn leads to high levels of concentration in the grapes.

ALTO ADIGE

WHITE

Pinot Grigio St. Magdalena Cantina Bolzano Alto Adige 2023	41
This Pinot Grigio offers a refreshing palate, characterised by crisp citrus and green apple notes. Its vibrant acidity pairs perfectly with seafood.

Fruit aromas of wild strawberry, raspberry, and cherry blend with restrained elegant spicy notes and aromas of flint. Mineral elegance, long and fresh finish.

VENETO

In Veneto, the indigenous red grapes Corvina, Molinara, and Rondinella have a long tradition and are used to produce Valpolicella, Ripasso, and Amarone wines. Amarone is a dense, rich wine made from air-dried, resonated grapes. In addition to reds, you can find amazing, refreshing, aromatic whites and of course, Prosecco, one of the most beloved aperitivos.

FRIULI

Friuli is a unique wine region located between Veneto, Slovenia, and southern Austria. Its two main sub-regions, Collio and Colli orientali del Friuli, produce light, aromatic wines. Friuli is also known for being the birthplace of skin contact technique, producing darker and more complex wines.

TOSCANA

Tuscany, in central Italy, is renowned for its exceptional wines and iconic regions. Best known for its Sangiovese-based reds like Chianti, Brunello di Montalcino, and Vino Nobile di Montepulciano, Tuscany also produces prized Vin Santo and passito dessert wines. Dry whites, such as Vernaccia di San Gimignano, are notable but less familiar. The region is celebrated for its Super Tuscans, innovative blends that often include international varieties like Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot.

LIGURIA

Most wine is the work of small, artisanal producers who have to grow their vines on terraces carved from the rocky slopes. Pigato and Ciliegiolo wines best express Ligurian terroir displaying minerality of the soil and sea salt aromas.

UMBRIA

The “Green Heart of Italy,” of enchanting beauty with rolling hills, idyllic villages, and historic towns. Umbria’s winemaking heritage is a hidden gem, with whites like Trebbiano Spoleto and Grechetto, and reds such as the prestigious Sagrantino di Montefalco, a bold and full-bodied wine with flavors of dark fruit and spice.

EMILIA ROMAGNA

The region's geographical diversity is significant, and plays an important part in creating the various terroirs found here. Besides being famous for its sparkling Lambrusco, Emilia-Romagna wine region also finds success in producing red wines from Sangiovese grape variety.

LAZIO

Lazio, home to Rome, boasts a rich winemaking heritage with volcanic soils that impart bright acidity and minerality. The region is best known for its fresh, crisp white wines, particularly those made from native grapes like Bellone. In recent years, Lazio's red wines, including Sangiovese, Cesanese, and Montepulciano, have also gained acclaim for their depth and distinctive character.

CAMPANIA

Campania wine region is a true reflection of its diverse landscape, offering a wide variety of wines ranging from fruity to powerful, mineral to opulent, with surprising white wines grown at high altitudes and given a long life by their acidity and minerality.

SARDEGNA

As the Sardinian saying goes, “When the wind comes from the sea, you can hear voices of strangers, but they are voices that pass.” This captures the spirit of the island, where the local culture has been shaped by a rich history of outside influences, including in wine-making. The Phoenicians were the first to bring wine to the island, and today, Sardinia is home to a variety of grape varieties and wine styles. From the crisp Vermentino of the north to the robust Cannonau of the south, each wine reflects the unique terroir and spirit of the island.

SICILIA

The history of Sicilian wine runs deep, with evidence of winemaking dating back to Mycenaean traders in 1500 BC. Legend has it that Dionysus himself brought wine and joy to the island, but even without the myth, it's clear that winemaking is an integral part of Sicilian culture. When the Greeks settled in Sicilia in the 8th century, they brought with them their love for “oinos” (wine), introducing different grape varieties to the island. Today, Sicilian wines are known for their bold flavours, unique grape varieties, and rich history that is sure to transport you back in time with every sip.
